Dr. M. C. Ford, of the Ogdon Department of Science, delivered the principal address at the annual convention of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation at Louisville on February 13.

He delivered the address at the annual banquet seven o'clock, Wednesday evening, in the main dining room of the Kentucky Hotel. His subject was "Present Farm Legislation and the Voice of Agriculture."

CAST OF SPRING PLAY SELECTED

College Players Will Give Famous Drama Of Oscar Wilde

Rehearsals are being held each night on "The Importance of Being Earnest," the spring production of the Western College Players. The play will be given March 21.

The cast, as announced by Mr. J. Reid Sterrett, Jr., director of dramatics, consists of P. A. McAfee, Morgantown, as John Worthing; Paul Street Ferren, Bowling Green, as Algernon Moncrieff; Norris Vincent, Brownsville, as Dr. Chasuble; Kathleen Williams, Bowling Green, as Lady Bracknell; Maxine Mason, West Point, as Gwendoline Fairfax; Velma Hardesty, Louisville, as Cecily Cardew; and Elizabeth Moss, Franklin, as Miss Prism.

"The Importance of Being Earnest," one of those outstanding plays of the master of wit Oscar Wilde, is a brilliant, sparkling, fast-moving comedy of high society life in London in the nineteenth century. It has been called by some a trivial comedy for serious people.

Plans are being made to costume the play in all the regalia of Victorian glory. This will make the witty satire of the dialogue all the more distinctive.

CRAIG, SPIEGEL PLAY SELECTED

400 Students Of Western
To Be Questioned
In Study

A study is being conducted at Western by Mr. W. J. Craig and Dr. William R. Spiegel to discover the reaction of the students to various extra-curricular activities. This investigation is one of a number being made in various teachers colleges over the United States under the direction of Eugene Briggs, State Director of Adult Education in the state of Missouri.

The data from Western will be gathered from a series of interviews held by Harry Shay, a student employed by the F. E. R. A. The students interviewed will be picked from the various classes, one hundred from each.

The interviews will be in the form of questionnaires containing various questions about extra-curricular activities, the purpose being to find out what influence causes the students to ally themselves with various organizations, the types of recreation they prefer, and the educational returns from participation in them. The questionnaires are unsigned, and all information is strictly confidential.

Western Is Challenged By Federal Government

Labor To Be Furnished For Kentucky Building If School Will Buy Materials

By Caroline Hines
For the last month the office of the College Heights Foundation has been humming with activity. Over 4,000 letters already have gone out to followers of Western all over the state. "And what is this all about?" are you doubtless asking. The Kentucky Building is to be completed.

In the fall of 1928 President H. H. Cherry launched a vigorous campaign to erect a structure in which to house Kentucky treasures. Abundant enthusiasm was manifested everywhere. Drives were started. In this, the first act of the dramatic affair, $247,000 was subscribed.

With this amount in view, work was started on the building. From the outside, the imposing structure is near completion. But in reality the Kentucky Building is a shell. The interior has not been started.

TALISMAN WILL CONTAIN UNIQUE FEATURE PAGES

Dick Powell To Be Judge
In One Of Several Contests

Elouise Martin, feature editor of the 1935 Talisman, announces tentative plans for the feature section of the yearbook. The scheme is to be entirely different from anything used previously in the Senior Class Publication.

The first division of the feature section will be sponsored by the well known musical comedy star, Dick Powell. Mr. Powell will select from photos sent from the college the pictures of the three girls he considers the most outstanding in personality, character, and beauty. Besides the picture of the three winners, the first division will carry also an autographed picture of Mr. Powell.

All girls enrolled in the college are eligible for the contest. All desiring to enter should have their pictures taken at Franklin's Studio immediately. The price is $1.00.

The second part of the feature section will be called the "Hall of Fame." It is to contain six pictures. These are: the most athletic boy, the most athletic girl, the winner of the Ogdon Scholarship medal, Western's most popular teacher, the best all-around boy, and the best all-around girl.

Seniors only are eligible in the contest for the selection of the most athletic boy and girl. Majors and minors in the Physical Education Department will select the winners.

The most popular teacher and the best all-around boy and girl are to be selected by the entire student body.

Complete plans for the contests will be announced by the staff within a few days.

PROF. STRAHM GIVES RECITAL

Reception Held In Cedar House Following Program

Professor Franz J. Strahm presented a piano recital on Monday evening, February 18, as a special tribute to the Women's Music Club of Bowling Green. A large group of music lovers listened appreciatively to Professor Strahm's masterful technique and sensitive interpretation of the classics. A varied group of numbers, including selections from Wagner, Chopin, MacDowell, Borowsky, Strauss, and Liszt, were played. The final number was Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody" No. 12.

Immediately following the recital, the members of the Music Club were guests of honor at a reception in the Cedar House. In the receiving line with Professor Strahm were the officers of the Bowling Green Music Club and those of the Music Club of Western.

Refreshments were served to approximately 100 guests.

WESTERN GLEE CLUB PRESENTS HOME CONCERT

Large Audiences Attends
Annual Program
February 8

The Men's Glee Club of Western presented its annual home concert of the current season in VanMeter Auditorium on Friday evening, February 8. The ninety-minute program was heard and received with enthusiasm by an appreciative audience of nearly 1,000 people.

Under the direction of Professor Franz J. Strahm and the management of Dr. Earl A. Moore, the tuxedoed musical numbers and responded to thirteen encores at the insistence of the audience.

Features of the program, besides the ensemble numbers, were: two piano solos by Professor Strahm; a musical reading by Dr. Moore; a bass solo by J. E. Wood; a tenor solo by Dual Randolph; and the presentations of the club's guest artist, J. D. McConnell, an accomplished cellist. The quartette, composed of Dual Randolph, Mack Houston, C. O. Evans, Jr., and J. E. Wood sang several numbers, one of which was the burlesque skit, "No! No! A Thousand Times No!" in costume.

One of the songs, "Thy Voice," was composed by Dr. D. W. Richards, head of the Music Department, and dedicated to Professor Strahm. Another, entitled "Love Lyrics," was written by J. E. Wood. This song was part of a group rendered in costume and with special lighting effects.

The program was concluded with the singing of "College Heights," in which the club was joined by Conrad Haynes of Caseyville, who was a member of the Glee Club last year.

Elizabeth Taylor was guest accompanist for the concert.

On Saturday evening the Glee Club traveled to Hopkinsville and presented its program before a large audience. The next appearance locally will be at the Washington's Birthday program to be held in the Physical Education Building tomorrow morning.

Mr. Taylor Gives Two Addresses

Mr. Charles L. Taylor, of the Agricultural Department of Western, spoke at a quarterly dinner meeting of the employees of the Pet Milk Company on Tuesday, February 12.

On Thursday evening, February 14, Mr. Taylor addressed a gathering of farmers at the Rockfield School on the activities of the Warren County Farm Bureau.

On Friday, February 15, the College High Orchestra participated in the P. T. A. Founders' Day program held at the Eleventh Street School auditorium. The blue and gold decorations, the refreshments, and the program were arranged by the various Parent-Teachers units of the city, including the Training School P. T. A.

The following numbers constituted the program:

Devotional, Rev. W. C. Whitaker.

High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Clifton Simpson. Hall of Liberty—Mrs. Towery's room.

Minuet, under direction of Miss Kathleen Brasher and Miss Lyle Ritzley.

Living pictures, under direction of Miss Annie Barkley. College High Orchestra, led by Mr. Weldon Hart.

Following the program a silver tea and a social hour were enjoyed. There were approximately three hundred in attendance.

Students Participate In Musical Program

Several Western students took part in the musical program of the annual Valentine banquet given by the Kiwanis Club on February 14.

The Variety Quartette, composed of Dual Randolph, Mack Houston, C. O. Evans, and J. E. Wood, sang several numbers, accompanied by Daniel Mosser. Hazel Kerns, accompanied by Dorothy Tompkins, sang a contralto solo. Katy Hughes did two dance numbers in Valentine costume, with Mildred Washburn at the piano.

There were approximately 100 couples at the banquet, of which a large number were Western faculty members and their wives. Dr. M. L. Billings is president of the Kiwanis Club, and Mrs. Billings was chairman of the Valentine party.

Tournament Starting Today Is 10th In Series

Western's Netters Have Been Victorious
Three Straight Years

Kentucky has the distinction of having the largest intra-state college athletic association in the United States. Eleven college make up what is known as the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. The schools are: Murray, Western, Eastern, Transylvania, Morehead, Berea, Centre, Georgetown, Kentucky Wesleyan, Union and Louisville.

In February, 1926, the Kentucky colleges then in the association decided to stage a tournament at the close of the regular basketball season to determine as nearly as possible the best team in the state. The first eight of these meets were played at Kentucky Wesleyan in Winchester. The ninth, because of lack of financial support in Winchester, was held in Louisville. On the invitation of Western, the tenth championship deciding conflict is now in progress on this campus.

FIVE WILL SPEAK IN CONTEST HERE ON FEBRUARY 26

Winner Is To Represent
School In State
Match

A local tournament to select a speaker who will represent Western at the state oratorical contest to be held March 2 will be staged in Snell Hall auditorium at eight o'clock, Tuesday evening, February 26.

The following students will try for the honors: Norris Vincent, Paul Huddleston, Yandell Page, D. E. Wagner, and Sam Milner. The speeches must be original and must not exceed five minutes.

In the state match on March 2, the Western representative will compete with speakers from the University of Kentucky, Centre, Georgetown, Transylvania, Berea, Asbury, Morehead, and Kentucky Wesleyan.

The individual award for the winner is approximately $25.00. In addition, the champion and his coach receive $30.00 to help defray expenses while attending the interstate meet, which will be held at Evanston, Illinois, April 25-26.

The prize money for the Evanston meet has been boosted this year from $50.00 to $250.00. The winner will receive $125.00, while those ranking second and third will receive $75.00 and $50.00, respectively.

This is the first time that Western has participated in a contest of this kind, since only this year the institution has become affiliated with the Kentucky Intercollegiate Oratorical Association. The Interstate Oratorical Association, composed of about fifteen state associations, is the oldest forensic organization in the United States.

Quartette Sings At Several Clubs

The Varsity Quartette, one of the most popular organizations on the Hill, has entertained all three of the local civic clubs the past ten days.

On Wednesday, February 13, the members sang before the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club at the Helm Hotel. On Thursday evening, they formed part of the program of the Kiwanis Club's annual Valentine banquet. On Tuesday, February 19, they presented a program at the regular luncheon of the Lion's Club.

The quartette is composed of: Dual Randolph, first tenor; Mack Houston, second tenor; C. O. Evans, Jr., first bass; and J. E. Wood, second bass.

DIDDLE'S SQUAD HAS BEST RATING OF THE 11 TEAMS ENTERED IN FRAY

Toppers Have Scored 743
Points In 19 Games
This Year

The Western State Teachers College Hilltoppers will play Berea College tonight at 7:30 p. m. The tournament this year will decide the tenth annual Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference winner.

Coach E. A. Diddle's basketball quintet is making a bid for its fourth consecutive title. In a previous engagement with Berea this year the Hilltoppers were victorious by the score of 35-25.

The Hilltoppers have built up an offensive machine around Mutchler, Hardin, and Reckzeh. These men are outstanding in their offensive drive and ability to control the ball, back one having an average of approximately 10 points per game for the nine. The outstanding defensive play of "Peck" Hickman, stellar guard, has kept the opponents from scoring on many occasions. The Western players have scored 743 points to their opponents' 512 in nineteen games.

Eleven teams representing the colleges in Kentucky and members of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association will compete in the three-day tourney today, Friday and Saturday.

Western, in winning the 1934 championship, defeated Louisville 13-12, and set an all-time record of having won three straight titles. According to the statistics and "dope" everything indicates that the Diddle charges will garner another championship.

One of the outstanding features of the tournament is a program presented and published under the auspices of the Publicity Department. This consists of 44 pages and sells for 10 cents, less than half as much as the programs of other tournaments. Information relative to the gymnasium, teams, individuals, and past performances of the teams is contained. It is a monument to the merchants of Bowling Green as well as the persons connected with the Publicity Bureau.

The officials of the tournament are: Gale Mohney, University of Kentucky, and E. Olney "Boss" Chest of Nashville.

IT IS REAL

Ninety per cent of those people who harp with undisciplined mockery on "school spirit" and "the spirit of the Hill" some day, depending on their rate of maturity, will see that there is such a thing as spirit. Those people will further see that this vital characteristic of Western is in every way tangible and visible.

Spirit is infectious. A person must let himself be infected. He must not immunize himself with the crude, bolsterous prattle of the smart set. This spirit stirs an admiration for a person who has made a success, which is in itself an awe-inspiring accomplishment.

Your spirit, your attitude, your belief, your mood—these things, your "spirit" in regard to what have chosen and your attitude.

A TENNIS TEAM

Western's student body as a whole, is interested in and supports almost all common forms of athletics. The institution sponsors football, basketball, base ball, and track teams which have won high recognition for their excellence. But for some reason or other, or perhaps for no reason at all, we have no official tennis team, Western being the only four-year college in Kentucky without one.

The school needs a tennis team, and it is not at all impossible for us to have one. We have coaches well qualified in this field; we have a wealth of promising material, players who would be eager to participate. We have several new courts, of which the students can and will take advantage. The cost would be negligible; as a matter of fact, other colleges, generally, have found that tennis teams will support themselves if a small admission fee is charged for exhibitions.

An official team would stimulate interest in tennis, one of the greatest and most democratic of modern games. The players would derive many benefits from their participation and the institution itself would profit from the recognition gained. The student body, therefore, should urge the athletic administration to take definite steps in the near future towards the organization of such a team.

A CHALLENGE

We are challenged! The Federal government has offered to furnish labor for the completion of the Kentucky Building if Western will supply material. Western, of course, has accepted the challenge. Soon a dream will be realized; walls of brick and mortar now enclosing a lifeless, unfinished interior soon will house Kentucky treasures which link the past with the present and future.

During the many years of its eventful history Western has had many gala days—occasions long to be remembered. But all will pale before Homecoming, 1935 the date set for the dedication of the Kentucky Building. To construct a museum of such vast proportions is no easy task. To fill it with books, relics, and other valuables is harder yet. Western is doing both. The Kentucky Building project is worthy of support; it is an investment yielding high returns.

Western has accepted a challenge on your behalf. Individual loyalty and support on the part of students, faculty, and alumni is necessary if the institution is to meet its obligation to the government. Will you cooperate?

At the time when rapid steps in construction should have been in progress the depression entered the scene. The effect was sudden; an immediate cessation of activities resulted. Those who had been so interested were unable to pay their subscriptions. The outlook for the Kentucky Building was a gloomy one. For a time many thought that it would never be completed.

Dr. Cherry was not of the same opinion, however. His goal was not a hollow shell, but a building which could preserve the traditions of the people of Kentucky.

The Federal government has offered to aid in completion of this project. In fact it has challenged the College Heights Foundation. If materials are furnished by this organization, the government will supply the labor. Western accepts this challenge. Old subscriptions are being revived; new ones are being made. Interest is even greater than it was when the project commenced.

"And what is this all about?" you are asking. The Kentucky Building is to be dedicated at the 1935 Homecoming.

Talismania

By Rena Bell Angle
The hard part about writing a column lies not in thinking what to say but rather in beginning to say it. For instance, suppose I want to tell you that one of the staff members caught a bad cold from sitting in the office window watching the sunset. How am I to make that sound entirely plausible and serious? It is, true, and certainly it isn't funny. (Don't misunderstand me. I wasn't the one who caught the cold.) It is part of the irony of nature. It's the same thing as getting one's nose scratched on a thorn when one is smelling a rose.

The most appalling sensation I have had in years came when I turned and saw the interior of the office after looking out of the window at the sunset and landscape for a long time. I felt as if all the 115 celebrities whose portraits hang on our walls were coming toward me to crush me. My stars must have disconcerted them because they abruptly retreated to their normal positions, and the office deck came out of its obscurity to protect me.

Several staff members were startled one day at the unmistakable sound of enthusiasm coming from the business manager's office. It was most unusual because the business manager never shows any emotion except when he is discussing his roommate. We thought that at last he was responding to an idea we had announced three days before until we discovered that the cause of all the racket was that he had successfully put a new ribbon in the typewriter.

I am ordinarily fond of rain, but if it rains three more days in succession I know not what may become of us. We can't take pictures in the rain, and an annual without pictures would be worse than a hot dog without the dog. J. B. says the state of the weather can all be blamed on that "darned groundhog."

I almost hesitate to write this column. Some of the staff put the most astonishing interpretation on words. The literary editor has realized it much to his indignation and my sorrow. He has been writing the theme of our book and for his pleasure alone may I suggest this theme song: "There Ought to Be a Carefree College Time."

The business manager has asked me to announce that he and Mr. Baker and Leo Forsting were non-plused on Friday the fifteenth day of February. For details ask them.

If a staff member gets a splinter in his throat from chewing a piece of wood, it is nice for others of the staff to insinuate that he has been drinking wood alcohol? It is not!

Schoolmasters' Club Holds Meeting Feb. 12

Approximately 125 teachers attended the meeting of the Schoolmasters' Club held on Tuesday evening, February 12, at the Helm Hotel. The club, composed of the teachers of Western Teachers College, Bowling Green Business University, and the various city and county schools, was addressed by Rev. Robert H. Clarke, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church on Abraham Lincoln.

Mr. L. C. Curry, principal of the Bowling Green Senior and Junior High Schools, and president of the club, introduced the speaker. Mr. Virgil Cassidy, accompanied by Mrs. Cassidy, led group singing. A short address was given by Rev. R. T. Skinner, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

This was the second of the three meetings held by the club each year. The last meeting will be held in April.

Band Gives Program In Chapel February 7

One of the most interesting chapel programs of the month was represented Thursday, February 7, by the Western band under the direction of Dr. R. D. Perry. Three selections were given: John T. Hall's "Wedding of the Winds," a concert waltz, Tchaikovsky's "Eugene Onegin," and John Philip Sousa's famous march, "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Immediately after chapel the band was lined up on the steps of the Administration building to have its picture taken for the Talisman.

Miss Sarah Middleton recently attended a meeting of the Alumni Council of Hollin's College Alumni Association. Miss Middleton is a member of the Council.

Frank "Bear" Lawrence, College High Basketball coach, reported a good trip, a good game, and royal entertainment. Each member of the squad gave an account of the part of the trip he enjoyed most.

ADVICE TO THE LOVELORN

CONDUCTED BY THE ABSENT-MINDED PROFESSOR

The problems submitted to the Professor this week were so hard he will have to give them some extra consideration, and in the meantime he has been smitten with his old yers-fever, with the following results:

A CODE FOR COEDS.
Any girl who's not a snip! Bring her prof a big red apple. Sit in front and go to chapel every single day. If by this she doesn't reach her goal, she'll sigh or faint or screech or Otherwise alarm her teacher Till he'll weakly say:

"The game is up. I'm beaten" at last. Though strictly speaking, You shouldn't have passed. But I just can't bear What you're doing to me; If I give you an 'A' Will you let me be?"

SCHOOL DAYS IN THE OLD KENTUCKY HOME
Your son shines bright in my composition class: 'Tis summer, the freshmen are gay. The boys are asleep, and the co-eds always pass. And the hands make music all the day.

Dr. Crabb Selected To Write Articles

Dr. A. L. Crabb, former Western dean and now professor of education at George Peabody College for Teachers, has been selected as one of the contributors to the "Dictionary of American Biography." The authors selected to write the biographies are considered the best scholars in their respective fields. To be selected is a distinctive honor. All articles are signed.

Dr. Crabb has written an article on James Priestly, an early educator of Nashville. He also furnished an article on Wilkins Tannehill. The "Dictionary of National Biography" is sponsored by many of the learned societies of America. It is published by Scribner's Publishing Company. Volume XV has just appeared.

Freshmen may be considered dumb and lowly, but their egotism is unequalled anywhere. One incoming freshman asked J. B. Goranilo at the postoffice window for his mail. When asked his name, he informed J. B. that it (his name) was on the envelope.

The young folks' lol! in the little campus store. All merry, all happy, and bright; By and by exams come a knocking at the door; Then my hopeful little frosh, good night.

On Saturday night, February 10, the Western freshmen defeated the Lindsey Wilson Junior College netmen here by a score of 36-19. Though the game was rather slow the Hilltoppers looked "clancy" in many instances. Dorsey, Hackett, and Jenkins did most of the scoring for the freshmen, while Clewis was best for the visitors.

Lineup and summary:

Dorsey (9) F (3) Halton

VARSITY NETMEN COLLECT THREE GAMES ON TOUR

Centre College, Eastern, U. Of Louisville Are Victims

The Western Hilltoppers recently made a three-day tour in to northern and eastern Kentucky, and added the scalp of two S. I. A. A. teams and one K. L. A. C. foe to their collection. The wins made a total of thirteen consecutive victories, seven of which were S. I. A. A.

The first victim was Centre College, whose highly-touted K. L. A. C. quintet crumpled beneath the superb passing and perfect teamwork of the Diddlemen on the night of February 8. The Eastern Maroons of Richmond were swamped on the following night by the fast-going Western outfit to the tune of 48-29. The weak Cardinal five of the University of Louisville allowed the Hilltoppers a 35-19 decision in the last game of the trip.

The Centre game was fast and full of action: Hardin ran wild and piled up 22 points. Mutchler, with his usual consistency made 14 points. Hickman, Reckzeh, and Reed supplemented their great work with enough hits for the remaining points.

At Eastern the Hilltoppers were never hard pressed after the opening of the second half. Hardin was again the "fire works" with 16 points.

The final game with the University of Louisville turned into a circus, with members of both teams doing the clowning, fighting and bareback riding.

E. F. Glenn, county superintendent of Lyon County, was the week-end guest of Kelly Bennett.

nament play, Western has been successful three times: Louisville, twice; Berea, twice; and Georgetown, twice.

In the first tournament, 1926, Bowling Green had the distinction of being represented by two teams, Ogden and Western. Each, however, succumbed to Wesleyan before the finals. Berea won the championship.

Although Georgetown was victorious over the Hilltoppers in 1927, Western was honored by the selection of J. D. Walker and Betty Hornback on the mythical all-state team.

In 1928 Western's cagers were subdued by the University of Louisville; but, again, the defeat was not without glory. Arnold Winkenhof, present coach of the College High football team, was placed on the all-state five.

Edgar Stansbury, a member of the faculty now, was named to a guard position on the all-conference team in the fourth tournament.

1930 and 1931 were two lean tournament years for the charges of Coach Diddle. No Westerner won state recognition either year.

Since 1931 the pendulum has swung to the opposite extreme. The strength of the Diddlemen, in fact, has stopped the clock, for the Hilltoppers have brought the loving cup back to the Hill three consecutive years. In each of these "prosperous" tournaments, '32, '33, and '34, two players have been designated as members of the all-state team.

Mutchler Paces Scorers; Hardin Collects Six Foul Shots

Coach E. A. Diddle's championship Hilltoppers defeated the Tennessee Polytechnic Institute at Cookeville on February 14 by the score of 33 to 24. This was the fourteenth S. I. A. A. victory for the Western quintet.

Though playing only mediocre basketball, the Western five secured a safe lead and then played on the defense to hold the early margin.

Brad Mutchler, Western's stellar center, led the scoring with 9 points. He was closely followed by Reckzeh and Hardin, who garnered 8 points each.

Superior shooting on gratis shots enabled the Red and Grey to defeat the Eagles. Each team made eleven field goals. The foul shooting of Harry Hardin who made six points via the free throw route, gave Western the deciding advantage. T. P. I. made 2 out of 9 free throws, and Western converted 11 out of 17.

Lineup and summary:
Western (33) (24) T. P. I.
Reckzeh (8) F (4) Vaughn
Hardin (8) F (4) Ward
Mutchler (9) C (2) Wasson

Cards Win Easily In Last Home Game

College High School closed its home basketball season Friday, February 15, by romping to an easy victory over Breckinridge Training School of Morehead Teachers College. The final score was 36-11. Jesse Ryland and Hardin Cherry led the way with 29 points between them.

WESTERN TAMES MURRAY 'BREDS BY 20 POINT WIN

Kent Is Held Scoreless In Game Played February 13

As the Murray band played "In the Heart of the Jackson Purchase," a tune dear to every Thoroughbred follower, the Western Hilltoppers took the heart from the Jackson Purchase to the tune of 44-24 before a crowd of 3,500 frenzied fans February 13.

Coach E. A. Diddle expressed some anxiety in regard to the game. The Murray quintet had been successful in recent games with Tennessee teams and had an average of 50 points per game on the home court. But a withering offense coupled with a tight defensive work crumpled the overrated Murray Thoroughbreds. Any doubt as to who has the better team was removed by this decisive victory. Some who believed that the removal of Kent in the last engagement hurt Murray's chances of winning were surprised when their "star" failed to score.

Murray was in the lead once when the Thoroughbreds scored the first two points. Sizzling passes and masterful floor work by the Diddlemen gave the crowd a demonstration of basketball long to be remembered in Western Kentucky. The score at the half was 24-7.

In the second half the Thoroughbreds recovered somewhat from their apparent slump. Graham and Carroll, Murray substitutes, accounted for nine points. The defeat was the third of the season for Murray and the second at the hands of the Western contingent.

Lineup and Summary:
Western (44) (24) Murray
Reckzeh (8) F (4) Magruder
Hardin (9) F (4) Kent
Mutchler (12) C (5) Howle
Meacham (5) G (4) Phillips
Hickman (10) G (2) Rabburn
Substitutes: Western — Reed, Garner, Goranilo, Garrison, Lamar, Murray, Graham (4), Carroll (5).

COLONELS FALL BEFORE VARSITY

30-15 Victory Completes Western's Regular Schedule

Western State Teachers College brought to a close its 1935 basketball season here Feb. 19 by registering a 30 to 15 decision over the Centre Colonels. This was the Hilltoppers' sixteenth S. I. A. A. victory, with no defeats, which places them at the head of the list with Murray coming in second and Centre third.

The Centre quintet, which was composed of sophomores, furnished the Toppers more opposition and fight throughout the entire season than any other S. I. A. A. team that has played here this season. Although the score is almost lopsided the game was a thriller from the start to finish.

John Reckzeh dropped in a gratis toss for one to open the scoring, and Captain Bernard Hickman tossed the leather through the hoop from in close for two.

After a wrestling exhibition lead and lengthened it as the game progressed. Throughout the contest they outplayed their opponents in all departments of the game.

The largest crowd of the season attended the game, which was played in the college gymnasium.

by Charlie "Tough" Griffin and Lenore "Tornado" Barnett which was staged during the intermission. Western and Centre played on more equal terms for a few minutes till Reckzeh made a push-up in several attempts. Sullivan hung the ball back over his head for a perfect looper. May chalked up one point; Hardin followed suit and returned with a crisp. Kid hit a gratis. Fitzpatrick took one the free way, and Hardin caged off as Cooper went out via the foul route.

WESTERN DOWNS MIDDLE TENN. TEACHERS 55-29

Reckzeh, Hardin, Mutchler Combine To Chalk Up 40 Points

The Western College basketball quintet completely swamped the Middle Tennessee Teachers by a score of 55-29 February 16. This win marked the sixteenth victory of the season. The Hilltoppers played the major portion of the game without the service of Captain Bernard Hickman, who fouled out in the first fifteen minutes of the play.

In the preliminary encounter, Coach Bob Francis' freshmen nosed out the Tennessee yearlings by a 29-17 count. The freshmen took an early lead, and like the varsity, held it throughout the entire game. Hackett, fresh forward, fouled out in the last quarter.

The Hilltoppers offense was a little slow in getting under way. Once it started to click, the points kept steadily piling up, and the Tennesseans found themselves crushed. Western was out in front 15-5 midway of the first half and increased the lead to 25-13 at the intermission.

Reckzeh, Hardin, and Mutchler accumulated forty points between them as Western enjoyed its largest score of the season. Reed, who started the game in place of Meacham, played a superb game as he combined forces with Meacham who took Hickman's place when the latter fouled out.

Western Student Has Boxing Class

A boxing class sponsored by Kingsbury, Western student, was organized recently at the Physical Education Building. Although originally intended to be a part of the curriculum at the Physical Education Department, lack of funds for expensive equipment prevented its inclusion this year.

The class meets each afternoon in the gymnasium. Several students are enrolled and are contributing toward the support of the undertaking.
